Art Unit: 3653

1. Applicant's election with traverse of Species I in the reply filed on 5 April 2007 is acknowledged. The traversal is on the ground(s) that the search for any one species would encompass a search for the other species, therefore; there is no additional burden on the examiner. This is not found persuasive because the search for each of the species is not necessarily coextensive resulting in an additional burden on the examiner in considering each of the species.

The requirement is still deemed proper and is therefore made FINAL.

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 1, 2, 22, 23, 27 and 35 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Koyama et al (JP 2000158637, cited by applicant).

Koyama et al discloses an image forming apparatus including a platen having a plurality of rollers 12 and a suction opening (see Figure 7).

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

6. Claim 30 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Koyama et al.

Koyama et al as interpreted above in paragraph 3 teaches everything except the specific dimension of the rollers and the amount the rollers project above the platen surface. The dimensioning and projection of the rollers above the platen surface are considered obvious choices in design for one of ordinary skill in the art as it is within the skill of a person of ordinary skill to size and position such rollers for proper operation of the device.

7. Claims 3 through 21 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

8. Claims 42 and 43 are allowed.

9. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to David H. Bollinger whose telephone number is 571-272-6935. The examiner can normally be reached on Tuesday through Friday from 9:00 am to 5:00 pm.
